Focus on the Masters popular Artist Spotlight Interview Series resumes with a new venue and extraordinary premier event. On February 28, FOTM founder Donna Granata will interview Grammy winning musician Roger Kellaway and America's Photo-Historian Joseph Sohm. Internationally renowned jazz pianist and composer, Roger Kellaway has recorded numerous CDs and has written for film (A Star is Born), television (All in the Family) and theatrical productions. Sohm and Kellaway collaborated on Visions of America, an orchestral multimedia portrait of Democracy. Sohm's guiding vision for this collaborative effort is a single question: "How do you photograph democracy?" This question fueled Sohm's epic photographic journey across all fifty states. Sohm's award winning book, also titled Visions of America, is awe-inspiring and will be reprinted by Readers Digest in 2012.

In May 2012 the Boston Pops kicks off its season with Visions of America celebrating many of America's greatest musical traditions, featuring Sohm's images. The season's theme culminates in Visions of America, Photo Symphony Concert for America, a multi-media composition created by Joseph Sohm, Oscar-nominated Roger Kellaway, Oscar winning songwriters Alan and Marilyn Bergman, and narrated by Clint Eastwood. The concerts feature vocal performances by Grammy winning Patti Austin.

Books and CD will be available the night of the event with sales benefiting FOTM's arts educational programming.
